COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Auctioning Unemployed Investigate Night School Be It Ever So Humble "Good Place to Sleep"

—By Gil A. Cowan

IN Boston, Massachusetts, they are auctioning the unemployed! Men are baring their breasts to the mob for bread!

Hungry, out of work, humbled in body and soul, they see little in the coming winter.

Yet here in California there is practically no unemployment—with the exception of those who have retired. Even some of the latter are working because competent help cannot be had. The wages paid plumbers and printers, boiler-makers and bakers is higher than ever here. All proving that our prosperity is genuine and that there is no need of unemployment where confidence prevails.

May the east take heart and provide public works to tide over the workers until their tide comes in.

With the commencing of school the social season here is once more in sway. Glancing through the news columns there are numerous mentions of parties, showers, dances, weddings and club meetings.

School has a settling effect on all of us, be we scholars or otherwise. And this year there is opportunity for everyone to obtain higher education in the night high school.

"Interesting?" you ask. Well, if making hats doesn't interest women, what would? For the men there is gymnasium work, not to mention the many other courses for all.

A. L. Ferguson, vice principal of Glendale Union high school, is principal of the night school and for those who have watched this successful business man in both educational and commercial lines, the opportunity presented the public can be appreciated readily.

Investigate the night school now if you wish to learn something!

Surprisingly large is the number of garage bungalows being built in Glendale at the present time. Pursuing the building permits of the day, it is found that the most rapidly developing sections of the city are subject to this type of home.

In the first place a garage is a good investment. It will be of further use when a residence is built. Further, it gives the owner of the lot on which it is placed the opportunity of learning what type of homes will be built in his immediate vicinity.

There was a day before motor cars came into favor that cheaply constructed houses were derided, but each builder of a garage bungalow today is the potential owner of a fine home and a motor car, not to forget a dog or a cat and a couple of children.

Vacant property is too valuable to let lay idle. Be it ever so humble there is no place like a home of your own.

Al Cawood, house manager at the Glendale Theatre, claims credit as a fireman. During the early evening show he noticed a young man enter, place a pipe in his pocket and sit down to enjoy the film program.

Soon the pungent odor of smoke was apparent to Mr. Cawood. Knowing the theatre to be fireproof and failing to understand how anything could be burning, he bethought himself of the youth with the pipe.

"Spotting" the fellow in the darkened auditorium, he invited him to make a hasty exit to the lobby where the inside of his coat was found afire.

A pipe parquet might be a safety first innovation, it would seem. Or better yet, the Winter Garden theatre in Seattle, Washington, has installed a smoking room in one-half of its balcony and a nursery on the other side, with sound proof glass partitions permitting full enjoyment of the pictures.

Glendale has been touted "a good place to sleep."

True, and more the glory for it. The high elevation devoid of fog, the absence of twenty-four-hour industrial plants, the isolation of railroad yards and the peaceful residents seldom indulging in all night revel does make this place a pleasing one for those who would slumber soundly.

Having presented the negative conditions first, let us look at other reasons why Glendale is "a good place to sleep." "Wherever your bed, there is your home," according to law. Which means that the thousands who live here and work in Los Angeles are really residents of this city. They own property, pay taxes, buy necessities, seek pleasure and crave companionship here.

And it is possible for them to make wise investments in real estate, keep abreast of municipal affairs, learn of local merchants' bargains, learn about entertainment and become acquainted with their neighbors through the columns of The Glendale Evening News, distinctively a Glendale paper.

MARY LOGAN BRIDE AT CEREMONY IN FLOWER BOWER

Popular Glendale Girl Wedded to Marshall Pearson at Pretty Home Service

Miss Mary Logan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Logan of 122 East Park avenue, and Marshall Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Pearson, were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the wedding being solemnized at the home of the bride by Rev. Daniel Webster, who officiated at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Logan.

The wedding ceremony took place in the dining room of the Logan home, which had been transformed into a bower of greenery, with a large bouquet of red dahlias at either side of the French doors, in front of which the bridal party took their place.

Just prior to the wedding ceremony Mrs. Wayne Smith sang "Because," accompanied on the piano by her sister, Mrs. Noble Ripley. O. W. Andersen also rendered a vocal solo, accompanied on the piano by Miss Helen Kappus. Miss Maryon Pearson, sister of the bridegroom, played Mendelssohn's wedding march, while the bride entered with her father from one side of the room and the bridegroom from the other side. The bride wore her going away suit of dark blue duvet-laine, trimmed with beaver fur, and black velvet hat. She carried a shower bouquet of white bride's roses. She was attended by Miss Harriet Barnes as maid of honor, and Miss Clara Pearson, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid, both of whom were gowned in black silk tulle and carried bouquets of red roses. The bride's mother wore a dress of brown satin and the bridegroom's (Continued on Page 7)

Permit for Laundry Is Granted by Council, Overruling Protests

Establishment of a laundry on Verdugo wash near Pacific and Arden avenues was permitted by the City Council last night over the protests of a number of property owners in that vicinity. F. A. Marek, city superintendent of buildings, has a financial interest in the proposed laundry and he told the council of the plans for the structure and declared it would be an asset rather than a liability to the neighborhood.

Councilman C. E. Kimlin declared the $500 weekly payroll proposed by the laundry means a great deal to the city; he also said the benefits would more than offset the injuries.

Councilman Stephenson, in voting against granting the permit, said he was not against the establishment of industries in Glendale, but he insisted upon industries remaining in the district provided for them. He said a property purchaser was entitled to protection and that it was a "rank injustice" to allow the laundry to enter a section not an industrial district.

Councilman A. H. Lapham also voted against the permit, but it was granted on the votes of Mayor Spencer Robinson and Councilmen Kimlin and Davis, who declared their investigation showed the district would not be harmed.

School Bond Project Supported by Council

Following the reading of a communication from Richardson D. White, city superintendent of schools, the city council last night adopted a resolution supporting the proposed $260,000 bond issue for city schools and urged that the voters give the issue support. The resolution was prepared by Bert P. Woodward, who today takes the position of city attorney, succeeding Hartley Shaw, resigned.

E. Dufferfield Jones, Age 75, Scientist and Booster for Glendale, Leaves Soon on Trip to Brazil, South America and Then England

One of Glendale's most interesting residents, E. Dufferfield Jones of 118 Fairview avenue, is preparing to leave early in October for a year's absence. Mr. Jones will be accompanied by his son and daughter-in-law, who live in Los Angeles, and will go to Brazil, South America, where the coming winter months will be spent. In the spring the party will journey to England, Mr. Jones' native home, and visit his daughter who lives near London.

Mr. Jones went to Brazil when quite a young man as a civil engineer and spent thirty very interesting years in that country. During his stay there he became an enthusiastic naturalist, taking up the study as a pastime, and gradually acquiring one of the finest private collections of insects and butterflies in the world. At different times he has been known to travel more than 1000 miles to get one rare specimen.

A year ago, Mr. Jones, accompanied by two nieces, Miss Housel and Mrs. Heppenstal came to America to tour the country. They reached southern California in November, 1920, and one day while taking a sightseeing trip chanced to drive through Glendale. They took such a fancy to the city that within a week Mr. Jones had purchased his home on Fairview avenue and canceled the rest of his tour. Since that time he has joined the Chamber of Commerce and is one of the biggest boosters Glendale has. Not long ago he celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday and plans to celebrate many more in this city.

When asked by friends if he intended to return from England he replied:

"Return? Well, of course! This is my home."

Woodrow Ross left this morning for his home in Chicago. In this age of rapid transit and palatial caravans long tours are not unusual. But Woodrow is only 7. He was born during the popularity of Mr. Wilson, former president of the United States, it will be recalled. Since then he has been considerably occupied with the business of seeing America first. His father is a traveling salesman and the child has been across the country a number of times. After attending the Republican convention in Chicago, Woodrow got a notion that it was his duty to attend the Democratic caucus as well. So he came all alone and had a pleasant visit with a relative at the Bay City. He liked California so well that he decided to return again this summer. A few days ago Mrs. J. E. Walker answered the phone. It was "Woody." He had just arrived in town and wanted to know where he could get a taxi to get out to the Walker residence. He knows the child has been across the country a number of times. After attending the Republican convention in Chicago, Woodrow got a notion that it was his duty to attend the

LINCOLN HIGH AND LOCAL SQUAD IN PRACTICE GAME

Big Pre-Season Crowd Will Be In Attendance, Is Belief, to Watch Performance

For the second time within three days Coach Normal C. Hayhurst of the Glendale high school this afternoon sent his pigskin aspirants against a rival eleven for a practice game, the opponents being the formidable crew of tanbark artists representing the Lincoln high school of Los Angeles. The game was scheduled to be staged on the railspitters' gridiron on North Broadway, and as it was to be Lincoln's first exhibition on its home lot an unusually large pre-season crowd of spectators is expected to be present.

Unlike the contest that was held on the local lot on Tuesday with the Burbank high aggregation, today's fracas promises to be one of the hardest games of the year for the red and black athletes, in spite of the fact that it is only a rehearsal for the coming league games. Throughout the various Los Angeles city schools the shrewd football mentors of each institution are predicting that the Railspitters will loom up as the real dark horse of the city league when the opening contest of the season takes place on October 7. Their showing against Glendale this afternoon will be watched by practically every prep school football follower in Los Angeles, and as a result a real game is being looked forward to.

League Game Next Friday. Likewise the Glendale huskies will be closely scrutinized by rival coaches and players in the Central league. As the locals copped the gonfalon in the circuit last fall they are being figured as the team to be nosed out for first place this year. The initial league contest for the locals will take place on Friday of next week and will be staged with Alhambra on the latter's field.

While the first team is having its difficulties with Lincoln the lesser lights of the Glendale high school football constellation will be keeping their hands full trying to turn back the attempts of the Burbank squad at the Hayseed's oval. Glendale's will be represented in the contest by members of both the second string performers and a few of the stars of the 130-pound Midgets, while their opponents will be the same team that bowed to the local first team Tuesday.

Building Activities In New Tract Marked; Lots Are In Demand

Building activity in the Mountain View tract, recently placed on the market by W. H. Armstrong, 104 North Central avenue, is increasing steadily with the improvement activity in every section of Glendale.

Two homes and a business block are now under course of construction. One home is the eight-room chalet house being erected on lot 20, block A, by Assemblyman Robert E. Colburn of San Diego county and the other is a modern five-room bungalow being built by a Glendale company. The store building being erected at the corner of the San Fernando Road and Acacia street by K. Otschich of Monrovia is a structure 24 by 82 feet, and will be hurried to completion as rapidly as possible.

The Mountain View tract is particularly attractive to prospective purchasers, in that it is so high it commands a fine view of the surrounding sections and gas, water and electricity are available. Street improvements, including sidewalks and curbs, are being put in as fast as possible and it is the opinion of Mr. Armstrong that the remainder of the lots will be sold within the next few days. Mr. Armstrong is being kept very busy answering inquiries and showing visitors over the tract. During the day he is to be found at the tract office on the San Fernando Road, and in the evening inquiries will be answered at 104 North Central avenue.

Watching Scoreboard

Right up to the threshold of the American league pennant room, the New York Yankees were ready to push the door in today.

With the prospect of having Babe Ruth, the big shover, back in the game today, the Hugginites felt sure of enough force to swing the barrier on its hinges and walk over the prostrate backs of the Philadelphia Macks.

Thanks to Dick Kerr who was not a pillow lifter in 1919, the Yanks were within one game of the world's series with the Giants, who clinched the National league pennant yesterday.

With Carl Mays, the bulky underhand ready to work, the Yanks were a chipper lot around their hotel this morning. They were not talking world's series but they didn't need to. They showed it in every mite and in every move.

Babe Ruth is back on the job. Following a day's sentence in bed as the result of a severe cold, he was so far recovered today that he planned to join the Yankees in Philadelphia and resume his place in the lineup.

"Rarin' to go," was the Babe's comment when asked how he felt today.

PREVIEW OF 10 REEL FEATURE PICTURE, PALACE GRAND

Photoplay Sensation Will Be Exhibited Tonight; Prices
Will Not Be Raised

The photoplay sensation of the season will be seen at the Palace Grand Theatre tonight when the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation will present a preview of their greatest production. It is a ten-reel feature film made for road show purposes, that is, one which will play alone at top prices in the leading theatres of the country.

The management of the popular T. D. & L. house feels quite fortunate in being able to show this picture tonight at regular prices immediately following the regular bill at 9 o'clock. Stars and directors will attend to see the success of their work and there is no question but what the Palace Grand will be packed to overflowing.

If you haven't seen Elinor Glyn's picture, "The Great Moment," starring Gloria Swanson, which is packing the theatre at every showing this week, you have the opportunity to do so today when the last presentations will be had. It is a superb Paramount picture. Milton Sills heads an unusually capable supporting cast.

"Miracles of the Jungle" and the Paramount Magazine also are on the bill, one of the biggest week-end attractions ever seen here at any price. The regular features hold over tomorrow.

BETTER ROADS ARE SOUGHT

MERCED—A general improvement of the roads in this district is being undertaken by Supervisor Dan Thornton. The bridges on the Chowchilla road have been damaged by the heavy hauling necessary in transporting an industrial railway track and equipment to the west side of the city where paving work is in progress. The intersections of the Chowchilla-Merced highway are also being paved, and new gravel is being placed on the road leading from the state highway to Plainsburg.

Apple Festival at Yucaipa October 7-8 Will Interest Many

The second annual apple festival of the Yucaipa valley will be held October 7 and 8 this year. The festival will be devoted to the exhibition and sale of the finest of the valley's products, with its big red apples largely predominating. Opportunity will be afforded visitors also to see the unpicked portion of the crop which is pronounced by many old-time orchard men to be the most remarkable crop of apples ever seen, in regard to uniformity of production as well as quantity of fruit.

In addition to the competitive displays made by individual orchardists and the various packing houses in the valley, there will be various forms of amusements, including an all-star base ball game, a one-act play, booths where the goddess of fortune may be wooed with big red apples for prizes, a one-act play, motion picture, and music by a good band. Cider like you used to get back home will be on tap all the time and a big turkey dinner with country fixin's will be served Friday evening, Saturday noon and evening.

The festival is given under the auspices of Woman's Club of Yucaipa, and the proceeds will go toward finishing the beautiful new club building which has been erected this year.

Huge Liner Burning to Water's Edge In Mid-Ocean Pictured

A huge liner burning to the water's edge in mid-ocean, and then swallowed by the waves; a tropic hurricane which lashes a schooner and threatens its destruction; a mutiny at sea; a terrific fight between the master of a ship and a score of fear-crazed Lascars and Kanakas; a tiny babe tossed on the waves supported by a bit of wreckage; a leap from a high cliff into the shark-infested waters of the South Pacific—these are but a few of the outstanding features of "The Shark Master," the romance of the South Seas, in which Frank Mayo is to be seen at the Glendale Theatre today.

The new Rolin comedy, "Stop Kidding," a Pathe Review, Aesop's Fables Modernized and the fourteenth episode of "The Diamond Queen" complete the big program built especially for school children's attendance.

If You Are Going to Build

Have a building erected that will leave no "regrets."

Whether it be a residence, commercial building or factory—have an edifice that is well designed and planned; that is built for permanence; that will be a credit to you as well as the community in which it is erected.

Buildings do not just "grow." Back of each structure must be a plan. If you would be SURE to have your building well balanced and right in every detail have your plans drawn and executed by experts.

There is always an element of delay and uncertainty where plans are drawn by one draftsman; the contract let to one or more contractors. If there is a mistake the responsibility is often hard to fit.

Why not build the logical way?

Have a RESPONSIBLE firm with a KNOWN REPUTATION such as the Roy L. Kent Co. relieve you of your entire building problem—from the drafting of your first plans to the finishing touches of the completed building.

Anyway, come in and get acquainted with the exceptional service we can offer. A visit for consultation or advice means no obligation on your part.

BANKS OF CALIFORNIA IN GREAT CONDITION, SAYS JONATHAN DODGE

Superintendent Says Financially and Economically
California Presents Brilliant Condition

By JONATHAN S. DODGE
State Superintendent of Banks
The banking power of California is greater now than it ever was in its history. The assets of our banks, national and state, aggregate more than two billion, four hundred million dollars. This tremendous sum is not an expression of inflation. It involves none of the false values, either of over-extended credit or of currency. The aggregate assets of our banks, expressed in terms of money, is the capacity of these institutions to meet the economic needs of the people of this state.

Our banks are sound and safe; they have passed the crisis of post-war readjustment; they have absorbed losses, and notably they have accommodated themselves to new economic values. They are ready to meet the new demands of progressive enterprises. They are at the command of our legitimate productive industries. They are playing their part ably and with great vision.

As a whole, they have resisted the temptation of our expansion. Individually they have been, except in negligible instances, in harmony with our law. They are in intimate and sympathetic touch with those of our people that require credit. They are in earnest co-operation with those whose thrift means so much to the development of our great natural advantages.

Condition Is Excellent

Economically, the state has passed successfully through the fire of the world war. Financially and economically, California presents a brilliant condition, colored neither by optimism nor by hope, but by substantial fact. The state is prosperous, progressive and on the high road to new wealth, widely distributed and soundly administered.

The banking law of California places the state in the first rank of the states of the union, financially and economically. It is gratifying to recall that during the upheaval that was incident to the world war, California not only financed our own needs, but was able very measurably to assist in financing the needs of states in other federal reserve districts. California is still financing her own economic necessities with the exception of a single comparatively insignificant instance.

This banking power, so expressive of our present development and so eloquent of our future progress, is expressed in the combined assets of our national and state banks. A brief review of the significant items in the condition of these banks is timely and important. There are in California four hundred and twenty-three banks and one hundred and ninety-three branches of banks operating under the laws of this state. Of the branch offices so enumerated, most are actually large, influential banks, contributing to very large economic areas and in any other consideration than that of designation they would be esteemed as big banks operating in distinct economic fields. In the national system in California there are three hundred and thirteen banks, giving us as a material total of state banks and branch offices and national banks in California nine hundred and twenty-nine institutions, from whom the productive public expects to receive its credit and to whom the wage earners and professional classes look for conservation of their savings.

Plenty of Money on Hand

In segregating the assets of the national and state banks for purposes of comparison, we find that in the state banks there are assets aggregating one billion, four hundred and ninety-six million, and in national banks nine hundred and twelve million, showing that in our total banking power the state banks represent sixty-two per cent of the whole and the national banks thirty-eight per cent.

In the state banks there is an aggregate of eight hundred and eighty-six millions of dollars in loans, and in the national banks five hundred and nine million dollars, disclosing that in loans state banks have granted sixty-three per cent of the whole and the national banks thirty-seven per cent. In the state banks there is a magnificent aggregate of one billion, two hundred and eighty million of deposits and in the national banks five hundred and eighty-three million dollars, disclosing a relationship of deposit liability of sixty-nine per cent in the state banks, and thirty-one per cent in the national banks.

In analyzing these very significant items, it must be borne in mind that the banks operating under the laws of California are distinctly a savings bank system. They are enlarging very rapidly their capacity in commercial banking and now possess something over three hundred and twenty millions in commercial deposits. They are in their savings departments contributing measurably to commercial operations in their capacity to invest in bankers' acceptances and commercial paper of a grade and character fixed by the statutes. There is notably a tendency, recently and very definitely expressed, on the part of national banks in California to enter the state system, and we shall have a growing and wider expression of commercial activities in our state banks. For the moment, however, the savings banks of California maintain dominance in relation to the commercial banks in the state system. There are in the savings banks of California an immense aggregate of more than nine hundred and twelve millions of deposits, constituting the funds that shall in wisdom be distributed to promote the natural development of California.

Prospect Is Splendid

We have before us a splendid prospect and our savings banks in a most material way are to develop that prospect into a reality; in the realization of our hydro-electric power, greater than that of any other state in the union; in the subjection of our land to irrigation; in reclamation; in public utilities; in the building of school houses; of roads, and in housing, our savings banks are called upon to play a part which calls for every element of their enterprise and their resources in bringing to our state the substantial rewards of its natural advantages. Incidental to these wonderful enterprises, our savings banks are contributing very seriously to the seasonal and occasional needs of commerce through the agency of short-time credit instruments.

The wonderful resources of California are yet to be exploited, and our savings banks have very gravely a great task to perform in assisting in that enterprise which has as its objective the organization and realization of our natural resources. In this great undertaking there are at least two million, two hundred and sixty thousand people in California intimately and personally concerned. They are the depositors in our state banks, exclusive of our national banks. Of these state bank depositors one million five hundred and ninety thousand are depositors in our savings banks and six hundred seventy thousand depositors in our commercial banks. It is interesting, in passing, to note that there is an average savings deposit in our savings banks of more than five hundred and seventy dollars and there is a per capita deposit of more than two hundred and sixty-six dollars. This represents actual and not inflated economic values. It is interesting, therefore, to compare with an example the very remarkable growth that has been accomplished within the last ten years. We have gone forward in our state banking system safely and surely. We have suffered, endured and overcome the upheaval of the world war and are mastering its vicissitudes with wisdom. A comparison of figures, therefore, as of ten years ago and today will not be unsound.

Los Angeles County

I have taken, simply as an example, and indicative of a general condition, significant aggregate items from the banks of Los Angeles county as of date June 30, 1911, and of June 30, 1921. On June 30, 1911, the state banks of Los Angeles county had something more than ninety-five millions in deposits. Of these a little more than seventy-six millions were savings deposits and nineteen millions were commercial deposits. On June 30, 1921, the state banks of Los Angeles county had more than three hundred and forty-one millions in deposits, of which two hundred forty-three millions were savings deposits and ninety-eight millions were commercial deposits.

On June 30, 1911, the total assets of the state banks of Los Angeles were one hundred thirteen and one-half millions of dollars and on June 30, 1921, the assets of these banks were three hundred and eighty-three and one-half millions of dollars, a tremendous and unparalleled increase, not only in California, but in any other state in the union.

California, therefore, is going forward. We are in the midst of greater and more normally diversified production. We are receiving fair prices for our products. The period of readjustment is no longer a problem. There is more business, more employment and less of a thought of depression. There have been falling markets, but there is a new trading basis upon which all of us stand with more confidence. We offer, I very earnestly believe, an example to every other state in the richness of our varied products and in the seriousness with which we are meeting our difficulties. We have suffered, in common with the rest of the world, but our suffering was incidental only to the return of our economic health.

Our speculative loans are disappearing; they are being liquidated, and we are giving to our farmers through our banks, what they need for their seasonal purposes and for the development of their best economic expression. Our natural resources are immense, but they are only a small measure of what they will be.

Our banks and our people have recovered from the illusion that Europe is our only market. We have an immense trading wealth in our food products and raw material. North America, South America, the Orient, Africa need what we produce and both our people and our bankers are sensible of this very vital fact. It is my very serious belief that we are on the threshold of unexampled prosperity.

SEA SERPENT PURE MYTH

There are no sea serpents and armor-plated monsters that rise from ocean's bottom and frighten vacationists. So says the prince of Monaco, one of the world's foremost oceanographers. Forget, also, the prince says, mental pictures of deep-sea forests of lace-like vegetation waving gently as submarine monsters move lazily through it. The depths of the sea are as barren as the tops of mountains. That is why there are no monsters in the depths of the sea; there is nothing there for them to feed on.

Among the contributions recently received by the library are a number of the librettos from well-known operas which have been donated by Mrs. Zetta Gibbons.

GRAPE GROWERS SATISFIED

SAN FRANCISCO—Grape growers of California are only anxious for the Volstead act to last.

"Instead of 300 wineries to receive the crop, we now have over a million American homes, each a small winery in itself," declared Edward Sheehan, president of the California Grape Growers' exchange.

Figures issued by Sheehan show that the grape growers of the state have just sold a $75,000,000 crop of wine, table and raisin grapes. More than 100,000 additional acres have been planted to grapes this year, he states, without fear that the crop cannot be marketed.

WILD WEST NOW TAMED

MERCED—The wild west is no more. William J. Ahern and Melvin Major, charged with horse stealing, will go on trial before a judge and jury. According to the testimony of Charles Griffin, he hitched a sorrel mare belonging to the David Saling ranch in front of a pool hall in Dos Palos. As he came out a few minutes later he saw one of the defendants riding away on the mare, the other accompanying him in a buggy. Yet the legal proceedings in the case have been perfectly regular.

Unusual Program of Vaudeville Will Be Given at Glendale

An unusual program of vaudeville and feature picture is scheduled for the Glendale Theatre tomorrow.

The vaudeville is headlined by "A Night in Argentine," a headline production which comes to Glendale direct from Pantages new theatre in Los Angeles. The company carries its own orchestra. Davy Jamison, the popular comedian, will also be on the bill. Comedians may come, and comedians may go, but Jamison stands in a class by himself. He has made nine tours of the Pantages circuit.

Yaconelli, the celebrated accordionist, is an artist on this instrument. Altogether it is to be a great double program, and the beauty of it is that despite the number of artists appearing, there will be no raise in prices.

Two hundred thousand trespassers have been killed or injured by the railroads of the United States during the last twenty years. One hundred twenty-five thousand of them were wage-earners and thirty thousand children.

IDLE RETURNING TO WORK, SO BRITISH FIGURES SHOW

But It's Long Climb to Where Normal Point Is Reached, Authorities Indicate

By LLOYD ALLEN

United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON—England is steadily overcoming the overwhelming business debacle of last May and June, when the ugly threat of anarchy was everywhere mentioned in connection with the bitter coal strike—and is now enjoying a consistent week-by-week business improvement.

It's a long uphill climb back to the position of twelve months ago, even. But with the characteristic British dogged faith in the future, the country is slowly straining back to normal.

Surest indication of remarkable recovery are Ministry of Labor statistics on unemployment.

Official ministry reports show that over half a million workers have been placed on pay-rolls since mid-June. However, the number of workless at this moment is still sufficiently large to cause everyone considerable worry.

A brief glance at the official figures, however, shows the seriousness of the position in June, and the extent of improvement already registered.

Figures at High Point.

On June 24 (the high point of British unemployment) there were 2,177,899 workers absolutely idle and over half a million on part time.

For August 19 the latest available official figures show 1,640,600 workless with less than half a million part timers.

In other words, the workers are gradually being absorbed back into productive work at a rate of between 20,000 and 40,000 weekly.

These figures include many women and girls, as well as boys. Classified into the sexes, the workless of August 19 are as follows:

Men	1,242,400
Boys	61,100
Women	290,000
Girls	47,000

Total 1,640,600

Meanwhile, the miners themselves are not enjoying their wartime prosperity. Some 100 mines are idle and 20,000 miners are workless.

England Has Hope

England is beginning to hope that the great crisis of strained relationship between capital and labor passed when the famous Triple Alliance—composed of railway workers, transport men generally and coal miners—failed to function in producing a general strike that would have halted most of the activities of national life.

Burbank, Wizard, Is Not Burbank Citizen; Everyone Please Note

BURBANK, Sept. 27.—Luther Burbank, the plant wizard, does not reside here, but the Motion Picture News of New York says so in a story regarding the filming of a photoplay. Listen to the press agent's tale:

"Residents of Burbank, California, citizens of the town whose namesake has for many years astounded the world with mongrel vegetables, such as the spineless cactus, the leafless cabbage and the thornless lettuce, underwent this week the rare sensation of astonishment when Gareth Hughes, star of the forthcoming Metro release, 'Garments of Truth,' was given an ovation at the railroad station by 200 townspeople of Burbank who didn't live there.

"The townless townspeople were the ten score extras engaged by Geo. D. Baker, director of this S-L Picture for Metro, in order that the home coming scene in the photoplay based on Freeman Tilden's story be strictly according to script."

AMERICA AND ENGLAND

My hold of the colonies is in the close affection which grows from common names, from kindred blood, from similar privileges and equal protection. These are ties which, though light as air, are as strong as links of iron.—Edmund Burke in Parliament, March 22, 1775.

Ginger Ale for Heat Victims Is Proposed

During the heat spell which blanketed the east and other sections during July, numerous cases of prostration occurred. It is interesting to note that one of the most practised treatments was the prescription for gingerale.

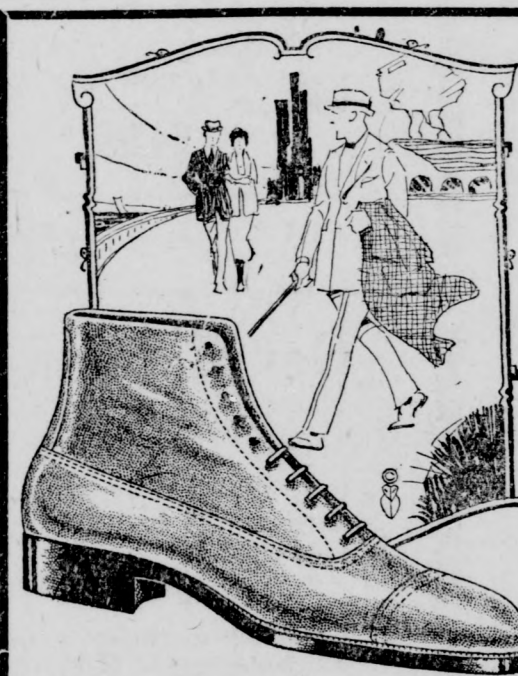

Ginger ale, owing to its peculiarly natural qualities, in addition to being carbonated, seems to have the desired effects in the treatment of heat cases. Its reaction on the stomach, according to certain physicians, is very beneficial. For that reason many patients responded to this beverage with more than ordinary speed.

The fact that ginger ale immediately relieves certain stomach disorders since it corrects a state of gastritis, has induced many doctors throughout the country to use it in increasing quantities.

The treatment of patients of advanced age by the use of this drink not only has aided their recovery but is declared to have hastened their return to normal health.

Since this beverage acts directly on the digestive organs its use for still other curative purposes is being recommended more and more by the medical fraternity, because of the prevalent opinion that a great deal of sickness can be forestalled in the incipient stages through such treatment of the stomach and intestines.—Soft Drink Journal, August, 1921.

Jazz music will be eliminated from concert programs given by the four leading bands of Anderson, Indiana, and standard music will be played instead. In the belief that it would contribute educational value along with entertainment, many musicians favored the adoption of classical music and these numbers will be interspersed with popular, patriotic and religious compositions.

CAREFUL SURVEY OF ALL U. S. ROADS IS PROPOSED

Federal Bureau Will Attempt Investigation; Total of 61,000 Miles In State

There are approximately 61,000 miles of dedicated roads of all kinds in California and of this mileage 9 per cent or 5,500 are in the state highway system. The maintenance of this tremendous state system is a constantly growing problem as the mileage of improved highways increases. At present over 3200 miles are constructed and under maintenance, but the traffic is doubling every thirty months, without any proportionate increase in funds for maintenance. The road problem is fast becoming of first importance among governmental activities, and it requires no stretch of the imagination to visualize the entire nation fretted with improved and semi-permanent highways.

Realizing the importance of the subject, the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, which recently made a survey of the California state system showing the present state paved roads earning $20,000,000 per year, is undertaking a project of ascertaining the total mileage of rural and urban highways in the United States, the character and extent of their improvement and the origin and disbursement of funds for their improvement and maintenance.

What Federal Bureau Says

In speaking of the project, the federal bureau says:

"The need for such a survey is most urgent. The whole matter of federal co-operation in road construction is now under consideration in congress. While there are a number of conflicting opinions as to the methods which should be adopted by the government, it is practically certain that future federal participation will be limited to a small percentage of the roads of the country. To provide a basis for future action by the government it is imperative that an accurate picture of the present highway situation be obtained both with respect to the whole field to be covered and also as to the part of the work that has already been done.

"From the standpoint of the states and local communities themselves it is highly desirable to collect for purposes of reference, information as to the methods of administration and financing employed by every community. The states have set out to build extensive state road systems; counties and local communities are voting large amounts of bonds and taxing themselves to the limit in order to raise funds for the betterment of their roads. In the main, each state and each community is proceeding to the solution of its own local problems with no conception of what the other is doing.
Every state and every community will gain by a better knowledge of what is being done elsewhere, particularly in respect to methods of administration and financing. Common council is a wonderful solvent of difficulties, and the survey which is being undertaken will serve as the means for an interchange of ideas which should be most beneficial to every community and to the nation as a whole.

Careful Survey Needed

"The bureau believes that, with the total annual road and street expenditures rapidly approaching the billion dollar mark, it is time that the nation made a careful survey of the entire field of public highway activities in order that it may have at least as much accurate information in regard to the essential features of our highway work as a private organization would hold absolutely indispensable in the interest of common sense, efficiency, and economy. The present plans provide not only for securing these data for this year, but look forward to keeping this information up to date.

"The Bureau of Public Roads has thirteen federal district offices which exercise control over federal-aid projects throughout the nation.
It is proposed to make these offices
the centers for gathering the data from the states comprising each district."

Solid wheels of wood have become so popular on automobiles that now they are being used on bicycles.

PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Do you remember a year ago this week:

That Clarence Pinkston, Olympic games diving champion, won the United States fancy diving title at Alameda, Calif.

That Dorothy Becker won the girls' junior national diving title at Alameda, Calif.

That Bob Martin, A. E. F. heavy-weight champion, outboxed Bob Roper 10 rounds at Cleveland, Ohio.

That members of the Chicago White Sox confessed to crooked playing.

That Harvard football team defeated Maine 41-0; Yale 44 Carnegie 0; California 88 Mare Island Marines 0; Stanford 41 St. Mary's college 0; Princeton 17 Swathmore 8.

That Earl Sheely, Salt Lake, continued to lead the coast league batting with 373 per cent with Miller, Oaks second with an increase of six points over his previous week, 344 per cent.

Duffy Lewis, Salt Lake, looks to have such a commanding lead that none of the other coast league batters have any chance of squeezing into first place in the batting honors. At that Duffy dropped six points during the past series but he shows an average of 404 per cent while his team mate, Siglin, is second with 352 per cent. Lewis has played up to last week-end 96 games while Siglin had played 170.

Lane of Seattle is having a fight to retain his position as the leading base stealer of the league. The past week he only added one pilfered sack to his total, which now is 46 for the season. Molwitz and McGaffigan, both of Sacramento, are right on Lane's heels with 44 steals each.

Incidentally the Sacramento Senators have shown to far better advantage at base stealing all through the season than any other team in the league. The Senators show an aggregate of 232 stolen bases while the San Francisco Seals come second with 186.

During the past series the Salt Lake team was the first outfit in the league to make an aggregate of more than one thousand runs. Their total was 1035 and their base hits column shows an aggregate of 1928, the largest number of hits on any team in the league. In the matter of two baggers, 403; home runs 120 and Sacrifice hits 337; the "Bees" also show the way to the other teams in the league.

As a batsman, O'Doul of the San Francisco Seals, easily stands out as the leading swat king among the pitchers' department. O'Doul is fourth on the coast league list of swatters, naturally being the leading pitcher as a batsman. He shows an average of 351 for the season and while a pitcher only gets to bat in one or two games a week O'Doul is always credited with a hit or more. He has played in 69 games to date. The nearest pitcher in the batting averages to him is Penner of Sacramento with an average of 330 per cent, he being fifteenth on the list, with fifty-seven games to his credit.

By FRANKLIN B. MORSE

With the close of the present series being played in the Pacific coast baseball league, the season of 1921 will come to an end, and Sunday afternoon will determine the winner of the pennant. At this writing the final result looks as if it would be in doubt until the final day of play, thus duplicating what occurred last season when the final game of a doubleheader was needed to determine the ultimate champion.

The standings of the teams compared with the identical time last season shows the following comparative percentages of games won and lost:

1921—	W.	L.	Pct.
San Francisco	104	77	.575
Sacramento	102	78	.566
Los Angeles	102	78	.566
Seattle	98	80	.551
Oakland	95	84	.530
Vernon	94	87	.519
Salt Lake	72	104	.409
Portland	49	128	.275
1920—	W.	L.	Pct.
Vernon	99	80	.553
Los Angeles	94	83	.531
San Francisco	93	84	.525
Salt Lake	89	81	.524
Seattle	92	83	.523
Oakland	86	95	.475
Portland	76	91	.455
Sacramento	73	105	.410

It will be noted that Seattle last season at this time was in fifth place and also it will be remembered that it finished in second place on the final day of play. Mention is made of this merely by way of illustrating the fact that, with the teams bunched as closely as they are today, just one day's play is likely to reverse standings, particularly this coming Sunday with its doubleheaders.

Fortunately for Graham's Seals, they were up against the weakest team in the league during the last series which enabled them to get back at the head of the percentage list. This was a life saver for the San Franciscans. The chances are that, had it been up against one of the better teams, it now would be out of the running for first honors. Whether they have emerged from their slump will be determined in the next few days of play. As a matter of fact it is do or die for all of them until the last man is out in the second game next Sunday.

Los Angeles, which seemed to have the pennant in its grasp for a short period, fell down unexpectedly. This fact, while it has jeopardized the Southerners' chances, has served to make the race a tighter one, a feature which is not objected to by the majority of the fans.

Seattle ended the series last week just on the rim as a contender and there is still a chance for this club to break in with the first three to finish. The first few games of the present series should definitely decide this question.

The San Francisco-Seattle series being played at the latter city, naturally is the center of attention. It is here that the bitterest battle for placing at the finish is being fought out. Of course the second division teams at the other points are likely to make trouble for the upper class clubs, but there will not be the intense concentration which will be expended at Seattle when the final clashes occur on Sunday.

THEY CAN NEVER TELL

SAN FRANCISCO—Truant officers never know where to find the kids who play hooky nowadays. They may be anywhere, according to Alfred Roncovieri, city superintendent of schools.

"Years ago it was easy," Roncovieri said. "They used to go swimming at the beach or in the bay, or else could be found in the caves on the hillsides. But now they may be anywhere. The movie theatres are the most likely places to hunt."

WEALTH OF STATE DOUBLE

SACRAMENTO—Total wealth of the state of California has almost doubled since 1911, according to reports of the state board of equalization and the state controller. The assessed valuation of the state in 1911 was officially reported as $2,603,267,528 as compared with an assessed value of $4,922,700,063. Real estate values have jumped over one hundred per cent, and personal property values show an increase of almost three times the value in 1911.

UTILITY AND APPEAL

Of all the liberal arts literature is the oldest, as it is the most immediate in its utility and the broadest in its appeal.

SAYS ITS MORE THAN STUDY

BERKELEY—College education is more than just study, declares Prof. R. A. French of the University of California department of education.

"A college student gets the best training from college life," he says. "And if he can't enter into student activities and study, too, let him sacrifice study. 'English colleges have out of date curricula, but they produce the finest men,' he states.

LOT OF FRUIT IS CANNED

TURLOCK—More than 225,000 cases of fruit were canned at the Turlock plant this year, according to final figures issued today. Of this record output 180,000 cases were peaches, the remainder apricots. The plant is expected to reopen in March to start the canning of spinach which should last until the apricot canning begins again in May.

MAKES REPORT ON IMPROVEMENT OF CITY STREETS

T. W. Watson Gives Additional Facts to Glendale Avenue Association Officials

A general statement regarding the improvement of streets in the eastern and southern sections of the city has been prepared for the Glendale Avenue Improvement association by T. W. Watson, former city manager. In addition to the information regarding Glendale avenue which was printed in Wednesday's edition of The Glendale Evening News, Mr. Watson says:

"The development of an adequate system of public highways is essential to the best interests of the city at large. Considerable study and planning will no doubt be necessary to the proper laying out and development of such a system. This, no doubt, is being given the proper consideration by city officials and should receive the fullest support of civic bodies as well as the individual property holders and citizens interested in the civic welfare of the community. There are certain highways well defined within the city of Glendale at this time that form the basis as it were of our boulevard system, each one of which has an individuality of its own and is worthy of the fullest and best development. The development of each of these highways contains no element of competition as between them respectively as they are all indispensable and their development serves the general interest of the entire city.

Part of Highway System

"First among these should be mentioned San Fernando Road not altogether by reason of its local interest but by reason of the fact that it is a transcontinental highway as it were connecting the city of Glendale with the great system of highways that is gradually being developed throughout the state and nation. As such it has an individuality that no other highway within the city limits of Glendale has or ever can have. It carries the largest proportion of heavy traffic at the present time and probably always will. With the development of the San Fernando valley and city of Glendale, the traffic on this highway will increase both in volume and weight.

"Next should be considered Brand boulevard. This boulevard in some respects should be considered, first, because it is of first importance locally being the central trunk line from which all local traffic radiates. No other street or boulevard within the city limits of Glendale will ever in any way compete with Brand boulevard in importance and its fullest development should have the hearty support of the entire city.

Broadway Developing

"Broadway is rapidly developing as a cross-town retail business street. Its development as such makes it desirable that proper connections both east and west with the entire street system of the city be developed and maintained. The development of Broadway along those lines is no doubt a matter of special interest to business property fronting thereon. It is more than that, it is of interest to the entire community and such development should not be considered as in competition with the development of any other of the main streets that compose our main highway system.

"Colorado street has an individuality of its own extending as it does from San Fernando Road across the cities of Glendale, Eagle Rock and Pasadena, connecting with all the main north and south highways within the area of these cities and carrying a large volume of traffic that traverses the boulevard system of southern California. It is essential to the general development of the city of Glendale that this boulevard within our city limits be maintained on a par with the splendid interurban boulevard system of southern California.

Special Importance

"Los Feliz Road although extending only a short distance within the city of Glendale is of special importance as it carries a large volume of traffic that cannot as conveniently enter the city over any other highway. The proper development of Los Feliz Road should also have the support of the whole city if it is to have its proper place in our boulevard system; that place cannot be filled by any other thoroughfare.

"Verdugo Road although not extending through the center of the city is nevertheless an important part of our highway system and has a distinct individuality of its own both in the service rendered and the fact that it traverses the most scenic portion of the city and is the only outlet to the north connecting the foothill boulevard and state highway through LaCanada."

WANTED SHOW TO BEGIN

J. A. Benjamin Purchases Land New Phase in Diplomacy Said at San Fernando Highway to Result From Meeting and Riverdale Drive Called at Washington

By WEBB MILLER

The Glendale Kennels, a new business enterprise, covering approximately five acres at the corner of the San Fernando road and Riverdale drive will be opened within a month, today announced the proprietor, J. A. Benjamin who, while convalescing from injuries received in an auto accident in Los Angeles Monday, is now back on the job overseeing the construction work.

The new enterprise, featuring pure bred French poodles and Boston Terriers, will be the most pretentious of its kind in the city. Mr. Benjamin came here about two weeks ago from Pomona, where he has resided for the last five years, and where he was engaged in conducting three oil stations. A visit to Glendale sufficed for him to realize the business possibilities here, and he purchased an acre at the corner of South Fernando and Riverdale drive. Since then he has added to his holdings on both north and east side until he has approximately five acres.

Plenty of Room Provided

The entire property will be surrounded with an attractive fence so that Bowser and his tribe may have plenty of room to scratch up the earth and chew up surplus shoes. At present, building activity is being confined to the erecting of a four-room house and a salesroom at 535 South San Fernando road, and as soon as this is completed Mr. Benjamin, who is in charge of the construction work, intends to begin operations on a similar structure at the corner of South San Fernando and Riverdale drive.

In addition to offering for sale pure bred French poodles and Boston terriers, Mr. Benjamin will carry a complete line of dog and poultry supplies, having the exclusive agency for the celebrated Bog's Dog Biscuit, which is guaranteed to give his canine highness no indigestion.

The work of construction is being delayed somewhat by an unfortunate accident which happened to Mr. Benjamin Monday at the intersection of Fifty-fifth street and Long Beach avenue, Los Angeles. He was driving in his Buick, and after waiting until the Long Beach special had gone by, crossed the track.

Thrown From Automobile

According to his version a second section of the train, composed of three cars was following closely after the first section and his auto did not clear the track sufficiently. The hind wheel of the car was struck and the machine dragged into the moving train.

The impact threw Mr. Benjamin out of the car and across the street. He was rushed to the Southern Pacific hospital and was yesterday removed to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, 511 East Broadway. The principal injuries consist of a number of cuts about the head and some broken ribs. An X-ray picture was taken yesterday afternoon to determine the possible extent of the injuries.

This morning Mr. Benjamin is able to be about and oversee the construction work, but is unable at present to do any hard work. While the accident was very unfortunate, resulting in several injuries and an almost complete loss of the car, yet Mr. Benjamin is very thankful that he is alive to tell of it.

NO AIR FLIGHT FOR HIM

SAN FRANCISCO—"I wouldn't go up in a thing like that—not if they teased me," was the comment of C. H. Wheeler, who after twenty years a "sourdough" in Alaska, saw his first airplane rise in flight at Crissie field. "Not unless they let me hammer in a few ten penny nails," he added. "It's too darn rickety."

Wheeler's home is in Circle City, Alaska, "Uncle Sam's Refrigerator," he terms it, and he has come back after a score of years in the Klondike "to catch up with civilization." But the airplane, he had admitted, was too fast for him. It leaves him far behind every time, he declared. "It looks pretty good up there from the ground," he observed, "but," (with a shake of the head) "I'll bet the ground looks pretty rotten from up there."

LARGE IRRIGATION PROJECT

RED BLUFF—Tentative plans for the irrigation of approximately 15,000 acres along the Sacramento river in the district northwest of Chico have been prepared by the California land settlement board, according to word received here from T. H. Ramsay, president of the Red Bluff National bank, who is interested in the project. Preliminary surveys just completed indicate that the major part of the tract can easily be reclaimed, Ramsay stated. As yet, however, no definite arrangements have been made with state authorities, it was stated.

Frank Johnson Joins Nussbaum Grocery

The Nussbaum Grocery company of 240 North Brand boulevard announces that Frank Johnson, who was formerly employed at Chaffee store No. 17 will be in charge of their order and delivery departments. He will personally attend to building the business and with his full knowledge of the business the Nussbaum store undoubtedly will prosper greatly.

Chance Ride In Auto Leads to Realty Sale

The story of the good Samaritan holds good in Glendale. Yesterday while Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Schuyler, 330 Ivy street, were out motoring, the car passed a woman and a small child walking. Mr. Schuyler asked them to ride and in the course of conversation it was learned that the woman and child were from Long Beach, being here to look over property in Glendale.

Mr. Schuyler told her he was in the real estate business at 128 West Broadway, and quoted a price on a certain lot. The woman asked him to drive out to the property and once there, she quickly decided to purchase the lot.

Original Dress Shop Meets Popular Favor

Since the opening of the Original Dress Shop by Maude E. Chamberlin and Miss Zelle Davenport, who have a very attractive shop in the rear of the Glendale Dry Goods company, 115 East Broadway, there has been an appreciable patronage both from those locally and those from Pasadena, it was announced by Mrs. Chamberlin today.

Mrs. Chamberlin formerly conducted a dressmaking shop in Pasadena and Miss Davenport was proprietress of a dressmaking shop in New York.

Feel your smile first and then you can put it over without its looking artificial.

Sherlock Holmes Has Nothing on Some of Postal Authorities

"Apropos of the article on misdirected mail in The Evening News of Wednesday afternoon, I wish to relate an instance of the cleverness of experienced mail distributors," stated Napoleon LeBlanc, 119 South Glendale avenue, yesterday.

"Seventh street in St. Louis runs north and south while Seventh street in Kansas City runs east and west. During my residence in Kansas City, Mo., I received a letter directed to me at 2220 'East' Seventh street, St. Louis, Mo. The distributor had concluded that the writer had made the mistake of putting St. Louis instead of Kansas City upon the envelope. Hence, it was forwarded to me."

Mr. LeBlanc recalled another interesting incident where a mail carrier had refused to deliver a letter to a Frenchman by the name of Leon Onexime Brian because it was addressed to Leon O Brian and the mailman had insisted that it had been addressed to an Irishman.

Arthur H. Dibbern Will Open Jewelry Shop on Saturday

The Unique Jewelry Shop will be opened tomorrow, Saturday, October 1, at 121 North Brand boulevard, by Arthur H. Dibbern, well known locally as a member and officer of the Elks lodge and bearing a high reputation in Los Angeles as a jeweler. He has been a resident of Glendale for years and this move on his part of establishing a high class gift store here will meet with the appreciation of the purchasing public.

New creations in emblem jewelry will be featured by the store as well as engraving work of a high class. Precious stones, platinum and gold articles, time pieces, leather goods and silver service will be found in the very complete stock which is being placed today.

D. W. Huff will assist Mr. Dibbern, the former being an expert watchmaker and repair man. The store itself is a most modern shop and is located in the heart of the shopping district.

WORTH REMEMBERING

The joy unshared loses half its sweetness, and the grief borne alone doubles its bitterness. We were not meant for solitude but for sharing, and when we are enjoined to love our neighbor, it is for self-preservation as well as for helpfulness.

Leisure cannot be fully enjoyed unless it is won by effort.

Interesting Talks Given at Gathering of P. E. O. Members

Chapter L, P. E. O., held its first regular meeting of the year Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. L. Bryant, 1635 South San Fernando Road.

After the business session, which was in charge of the president, Mrs. May Lee, Ann P. Bartlett gave a talk on Red Cross work, including a report of the work accomplished in Glendale during the year. Nettie C. Brown then spoke on "problems of a school board." Both talks were interesting and much enjoyed.

Donations were brought in by members, including groceries, clothing, etc., to be used for reciprocity work.

The hostess served delicious refreshments.

If second thoughts are best, forethought ought to be twice as good.

NEW POLICE CHIEF, ALLEN O. MARTIN, TAKES OFFICE

J. P. Lampert Retires From Service After Three Years;
Executive Tells Aims

J. P. Lampert, who has served the city as chief of police over a period of three years, tonight steps out and tomorrow morning Chief Allen O. Martin will take charge of the department. Already he has been taking an active interest in the administration of public safety and he has the following statement for the public:

"Upon assuming the duties of chief of police, October 1, I hope to have the support and co-operation of all law-abiding, home-loving citizens.

"My aim will be the enforcement of the law without partiality and the upbuilding of the police department on the foundation of ability and square dealing, thereby meriting the confidence of the representatives of the citizens who appointed me.

"Chief Lampert, who retires from office today, is deserving of the highest praise for his administration and the city of Glendale loses the services of one of the most honorable, upright police officials I have ever met and I know a great man all over this country."

To Build Home Here

Mr. Martin enters office with the highest recommendations as an investigator, having served with the department of justice and operated his own private detective agency in Chicago. He has purchased a home-site here and expects to build at once.

Mr. Lampert has expressed the wish for a long vacation for many months, feeling that the position of chief was too strenuous for a person to hold any extended time. Having come to Glendale with the reputation as a conscientious law enforcement officer with experience as a sheriff in Nebraska, he joined the force during the war and became head of the department where he remained without opposition. His active interest in the work led him to be patrolling the streets on a bicycle in the early hours of morning when the force is at ebb tide and the city most needed protection. However, the high esteem which members of the department hold for him bespeaks best his kindly dealings and efficient conduct of office.

Chief Martin announces that there will be three shifts of eight hours each for the patrolmen hereafter, as the vacation season is over and a full complement of officers is on the job. James Mann is to be appointed permanent day desk sergeant.

LARGEST ICE CREAM CAKE

TULARE—Nearly two thousand helpings of ice-cream were served at the Elks' banquet here from what is believed to be the largest ice-cream cake ever constructed. The cake, donated by a Visalia concern, was made entirely of individual bricks of ice-cream and weighed over four hundred pounds. It was elaborately decorated and frosted. The enormous frozen pile was torn to pieces and devoured by the hungry Elks in less than twenty minutes.

McGregor Realty Co. Will Move Offices to 136 North Brand

The McGregor Realty company will move its office Saturday from 106-A East Broadway to 136 North Brand boulevard, it was announced by the company today. The company has been doing a large volume of business since being established in Glendale and the new location will enable it to keep stride with the pace already set, it states.

Besides M. J. McGregor, active head of the company, others in charge of the work at the office will be R. W. Frueh, who will be in charge of the house department, and E. J. Fitzpatrick, in charge of the land department. Attorney Charles Winburn of Los Angeles will continue as legal advisor for the firm.

"Yes, you may as well come over and figure on building the new den my wife insists I need. She has no satisfactory room to sew in."

Concert Company to Appear Tonight at Methodist Church

Do you like good music—good, old-fashioned music with real melody?

The Epworth League of the First Methodist church, Wilson avenue and Kenwood street, promises that you will enjoy a pleasant program tonight from versatile entertainers, known as the Marshall Concert company.

Dramatic interpretations in costume and humorous character sketches will be presented as well as a number of instrumental selections. The musicians are bringing an accordion, marimbaphone and xylophone, but they will use the church piano.

The microscope will show the mosquito has twenty-two teeth.

The caterpillar's range of vision is only two-fifths of an inch.

Christian Church to Hold Promotion Ceremonies Tonight

The Sabbath school at the Christian church will hold its promotion exercises tonight, under the direction of Floyd Mercer, acting superintendent; Mrs. Clifford A. Cole and Miss Laura Wilford Brown, instructors in the Junior and Primary departments. Fourteen junior and thirteen primary pupils will receive certificates of promotion in regular grade work, and, in addition, each one will be presented with a small Bible by the Sunday school. Following the exercises the pupils will be entertained as guests of honor at a social gathering at the church. Light refreshments will be served.

An airplane fire engine, carrying fire extinguishers and pumps, driven by the airplane motor, recently succeeded in extinguishing a considerable fire near San Francisco, before the fire department reached the fire.

By ARTHUR SHERBORNE

It was a machine shop! Slowly the grinding rumble of the shaping machine stopped; the biting rasp of the drill presses ceased; the rolling moan of a well oiled milling machine ended; the metallic cackling of a power hacksaw wheezed its last; the pulsating throb of motors died down; the gyrating whirr and whizz of overhead shafting concluded; the static electricity and vibration in the air became less noticeable and gradually the hum and murmur of voices became audible.

The overall clad workmen cast final glances at their powerful machines, collected their hand tools, returned them to the stock room and passed into a nearby washroom where specially prepared soap and plenty of water helped remove the marks of toil. Then they doffed their blue and brown uniforms of labor and hung them in lockers.

The day's work was over! It was evident from the chatter and conversation that there was great satisfaction in the hearts of the workmen. They were talking of anticipated activities upon the morrow. Picnics and games, odd jobs and chores were the subjects. Evidently, the shop would not be open on Saturday. The sun had long since ceased to beam in the windows because the room was located in the southeast corner of the building, but it was evident that night was still far off. A workman looked at his watch—it was 3:30 p. m.

Ha! Plot Clears Up

No, this is not a picture of the end of a five day week in Bolshevik Russia!

Instead, it is a verbal drawing of the machine shop at the Glendale Union high school. The only thing which is radically incorrect about it is the apparent anxiety of the students to leave.

"I have to drive them out," remarked Morgan N. Smith, foreman, recently. "They are so interested that they want to work here all night."

Old-fashioned parents, who think there is nothing practical in the high school curriculum of the present generation which compares with the training of the "little red school house," should make a trip of inspection to the Mechanical Arts building of the local institution. Quite likely they would be surprised both at the quantity of ponderous machinery, the investment involved and the audacity of a school board in daring to provide modern equipment for an up-to-date machine shop.

Study Is Practical

"The work done here is very practical," stated Mr. Smith. "It is not all theory by any means. The students do a lot of actual work and are advanced from one machine to another and from one class of work to the next as their ability is demonstrated."

Morgan N. Smith joined the high school faculty after extensive experience in actual machine shop work.

He served his apprenticeship and then made himself a master of theory as well. However, he lays no claim to knowing all about the science of machine shop practice for he admits that this study is much deeper than laymen realize.

Very few machine shops in the west are better equipped than the large room at the high school. It contains seven engine lathes, a universal milling machine, two drill presses, a 20 inch and an 8 inch; a shaper, a cutter grinder, a power hacksaw, and an Arbor press. Around two sides of a well lighted room level with the window ledges is a long bench upon which is done the hand work. In an adjoining stock room is an adequate supply of small tools.

"Our equipment here is very creditable," declared Mr. Smith. "The only machine we haven't got is a planer and there has been some talk of getting one of those only the school may have to move into larger quarters before long."

Ability Is Displayed

"At present we are prepared to handle practically any kind of machine work. We can shape many automobile parts, even to the making of new axles. Some of the students have had considerable experience and many of them show a great deal of ability. One of them is as good as any ordinary first class mechanic."

The first job received by a beginning student is practical bench exercise in chipping and filing. He is given a small rough oblong block of metal and told how to hammer, chisel and file it into perfect size. By the way he handles his tools, Mr. Smith is able to ascertain almost at once how much aptitude the pupil possesses. He has found that those who do this work accurately and well, usually remain with the class during the whole year and enjoy the work.

Others, who have registered for the instruction because they hoped to get a soft snap, are soon discouraged at the hard work and drop out. Some students are able to do this exercise while others, who have had no previous experience, sometimes take as long as three weeks. A little later, when they are allowed to do the same work on a machine, the students certainly appreciate the inventive genius of the Twentieth Century.

Of course, Mr. Smith realized that students, carrying other studies and spending most of their time out of the shop, cannot develop as thoroughly as boys working as regular apprentices although they may get more diversified training. His principle endeavor is to teach the fundamentals of machine shop practice—the vital points which the busy foreman does not have the time nor the inclination to impart to his men. With this knowledge Mr. Smith believes boys, who expect to engage in machine shop work as a vocation, have better chances to develop later and become foremen and factory managers.

Pearl Keller Now Organizing Classes In Dramatic Lines

Now that the winter season's activities have again begun Pearl Keller finds that there is an unusually large demand for instruction along dramatic lines and has secured the services of Miss Jane Courthope to assist her in the dramatic section of her school. Miss Courthope is declared to be a thoroughly experienced actress and has been associated with such prominent stars as Robert Mantell, William Gillette, Ben Greet players, and Miss Mary Mannering. Miss Courthope is also well known over the Orpheum and Keith circuits, where her sketches have been immensely successful. There are no doubt many Glendale people who will recall seeing her at a Los Angeles theatre when she appeared in her little gem called "Our Family."

Shakespearean Classes

Miss Courthope's classes will include instruction in stage technique, voice tone, poise, expression, diction and every branch of the dramatic art. Shakespearean classes are also being formed.

One of the new classes being started at the Pearl Keller school is a women's class of physical culture and development. Pearl Keller teaches the Mary Morgan system of technique and both her children's and adults classes of dancing have become very popular. She now has two large children's classes on "Friday" and also two classes on Saturday for fancy dancing.

Miss Zillah Withrow of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Dewar will assist Miss Keller in the ball room classes, teaching all of the latest dances.

The school also has classes in ball room dancing for adults and high school students every Friday evening and for children every Saturday afternoon, as announced elsewhere in The Glendale Evening News.

BIRD SANCTUARY FOR GULLS

Natural history has many students in Canada proper and the provinces. The town of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, has recently purchased an island in its local Lake George, as a bird sanctuary for great black-backed gulls.

Watch Your Step or You Will Skid, for Pavements Are Wet

With slippery pavements an unusual number of auto crashes are expected by the police department.

While the first rain of the fall season is inconsequential, it is just enough to make motoring perilous.

T. W. Preston, who measures the rain when there's enough to measure, said today that the present "storm" had not yet registered enough to make a report worth while.

It is expected that the light showers will extinguish the forest fires raging along the Pacific coast, one of which has been endangering traffic along the ridge route. The rain also ends the hot spell of the week, although the murky atmospheric conditions make the day very oppressive.

Louis F. Albert of Pasadena and A. H. Thorp of Los Angeles selected a convenient spot on Los Feliz road to bring their cars together last evening. Mrs. Lucile Eames of 633 1/2 North Orange Grove street was the driver of a machine bumped by a car driven by S. C. Rogers of Burbank at San Fernando road and Brand boulevard. Henry W. Kirby and W. B. Canaday featured in a slight accident at Louise street and Broadway yesterday afternoon, the latter's car hitting the one driven by Kirby.

Buster Brown Shoe Store to Be Opened by W. C. Winkler

W. C. Winkler, 311 North Jackson street, employed a force of carpenters this morning in remodeling the store building at 122 North Brand boulevard, recently vacated by S. Berman, the tailor, when he moved his establishment to 406 South Brand boulevard. Mr. Winkler intends to carry a complete line of shoes for women, men and children, and will feature the goods put on by the Brown Shoe company of St. Louis, Mo., the Buster Brown shoes for children being a distinct specialty.

The work of remodeling the store will consist of a new front, shelves, and display tables. The Acme Contracting company of Los Angeles has the job and it is thought the store will be ready for occupancy by the 15th of October.

Mr. Winkler is an experienced shoe man. He came to Glendale from Kansas City, Missouri, last May and the city pleased him so well that he decided to make his home here.

Overheard while coming out of the movies: "That was a wonderfully realistic rainstorm. Why, the scene hadn't been running ten seconds before my corn began to ache."

Mrs. P. S. McNutt of Glendale Will Take Part In Conference

The First District California Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations will hold its first conference of the year Thursday, October 6, in Los Angeles at Garfield hall, Walker theatre building, on South Grand avenue between Seventh and Eighth streets. The departments of membership, child hygiene and patriotism will be presented.

Conferences will open at 10 o'clock with a presidents' council, conducted by the state president, Mrs. H. J. Ewing. This will be followed by a parliamentary drill led by Mrs. P. S. McNutt of Glendale. One of the principal features of the morning will be a round table when the district chairman will discuss outlines and plans with federation and local chairmen.

Members and friends of the Congress of Mothers have been extended an invitation to hear Mrs. Ewing talk on "The Value of the Parent-Teacher Association," at the afternoon session.

Music for the council will consist of community singing led by Earl Meeker, and vocal solos by Mrs. H. R. Darling, both of Glendale.

During the year ending July 1, a total income of $2,227.24 was received. This was combined with $1,150.61 left over from the previous fiscal year, making the total cash handled for the period $3,377.85. The biggest return came from membership which provided $2,074, while contributors donated $54.80, home service brought $25, interest $29.20 and materials and supplies sold, $44.24.

Since New Year's the local chapter has sent seventy-three layettes and 186 garments abroad and during the last month a box of warm clothing. It contributed $100 towards clothing ex-service men in public health hospitals; $25 toward instruction in the service school at San Diego; $50 per month to the district public health nurse; $35 for the Pueblo sufferers.

It has also helped home service cases and prepared an exhibit for the San Fernando fair.

Polka Dot Cafeteria and Lunch Counter to Open October 11

Polka dot decorations will be a big feature in the design and decorations of the "Polka Dot" cafeteria and lunch counter now under course of remodeling at 712 East Broadway, it has been announced by Manager C. Thyman. The decorations will be neat and attractive and will add much toward making the place a popular one with the hungry who appreciate wholesome food cooked well.

Manager Thyman has also announced that the cafeteria and lunch counter will be ready for the public by October 11. C. P. Fennell, 119 North Glendale avenue, who has been doing much finishing work in Glendale during the past year, is in charge of finishing the interior.

H. W. Marshall of Los Angeles, formerly proprietor of the Polinsetta cafeteria there, has leased the three store rooms on East Broadway, 708, 710 and 712, and has placed C. Thyman in charge as manager of the "Polka Dot."

The rear of the building at 710 will be utilized as a kitchen for the cafeteria, and the remainder of the building will be rented out as a store. The building at 708 East Broadway is now doing big business in the restaurant line.

Mr. Marshall is a restaurant man of considerable experience, and as soon as work is completed here on the "Polka Dot," he will send Mr. Fennell to Hollywood to do similar work at that place, he states.

Glendale Visitors, Like City and Then Purchase Property

Two real estate sales are reported by the Edwards & Wilbey company, 139 North Brand boulevard, which will bring new citizens to Glendale. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Richards of San Diego have purchased property at 524 California avenue, and will move here at once. Mr. Richards was an officer in the artillery and saw service in France. After visiting practically every important city in the United States, Mr. and Mrs. Richards decided there were but two in which they would care to reside permanently. One was San Diego, and the other, of course, was Glendale.

A recent visit here and a little time spent in looking over the many pleasant features of Glendale led to the decision to forsake San Diego and property was purchased here.

The other sale reported by the Edwards & Wilbey company is that of the property of Nathan Raigdon, 328 West Myrtle street, a two-story house being purchased by Mrs. Rose Rogers. About a year ago Mrs. Rogers and daughter came from the east and purchased property in Eagle Rock. Hearing of Glendale and the many advantages here for those wishing a city that would give them scenery, modern conveniences and a wholesome surrounding, it was decided to dispose of the holdings at Eagle Rock and come here. The sale of the property in Eagle Rock was immediately followed by the purchase of a home here and Mrs. Rogers intends to move at once.

Shark leather is superior to calf leather for shoes, according to scientists employed in the Bureau of Standards. Laboratory tests on water penetration and tensile strength prove it better as do experiments carried on by laborers at work in ditches, postmen tramping their routes and schoolboys at play who have been wearing one shoe of calf skin and the other of shark.
